

A group of people are sitting outdoors at a park, some playing guitar and reading, for a social event. The scene is set under large trees with sunlight filtering through the leaves. In the foreground, a man with a beard and sunglasses sits in a folding chair, holding a travel mug. To his right, a man with white hair plays an acoustic guitar. Further right, a woman with glasses reads a book, and another woman sits next to her. In the background, another woman sits in a green chair. A blue cooler and a blue bag are on the ground. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.
